PROFILE

I am an experienced team player who lives to learn, a mindful listener and thinker who understands the role of failure in the creative process. Technically proficient and organized user of Premiere Pro and Avid Pro Tools 12. Audio/visual creation is a life-long passion and professional pursuit. I value relationships with other individuals above all else, as these are integral to not only productive and professional collaboration, but contribute to a shared sense of community that extends beyond what is possible alone.
